Randy Moss Teams Up With DraftNasty.com

Huntersville, North Carolina (June 11, 2010) – Randy Moss, NFL All-Pro receiver for the New England Patriots, announces a new partnership with DraftNasty.com - a leading interactive scouting website created by former NFL standout and NFL Draft Expert Corey Chavous.

This new partnership will be focused around a new workout video, "Moss Feeling the Heat", that will showcase the behind the scenes off-season workouts of Moss and his long time personal trainer and friend Tim Martin. The video will show what Randy does in the off-season to stay in top shape and prepare for the upcoming rigors of a full NFL season. Moss, entering his 13th season in the NFL, has long been known for his dedicated workout regime that makes him one of the best conditioned athletes in professional sports. The unique relationship that Randy and Tim have is very evident in the workout video and this is an important key to the success of the program.

"I am very excited about this new video," stated Moss. "I have known Corey for some time now and for us to be able to work together on something like this is pretty cool. Also, for Tim Martin and myself to be able to showcase to fans a behind the scenes look of our workout regime is an honor for both of us. We have a unique and very trusting relationship that goes all the way back to our playing days together in college which goes a long way towards the intensity of our sessions that may not be seen anywhere else. I hope everyone has a chance to see the video and enjoy the great job by Corey and his people."

A three minute video trailer of the Randy Moss workout is now available for viewing at www.DraftNasty.com. The full 30 minute video will be released and available to the public in September. Watch how a future Hall of Fame athlete maintains his physical shape after 12 seasons in the NFL and continues at a record setting pace of play – establishing him as one of the best of all time.
